Behind every cloud . . .

Everyone knows the old saying, "Behind every cloud there's a silver lining," and this year there were certainly enough clouds to have many people disturbed.

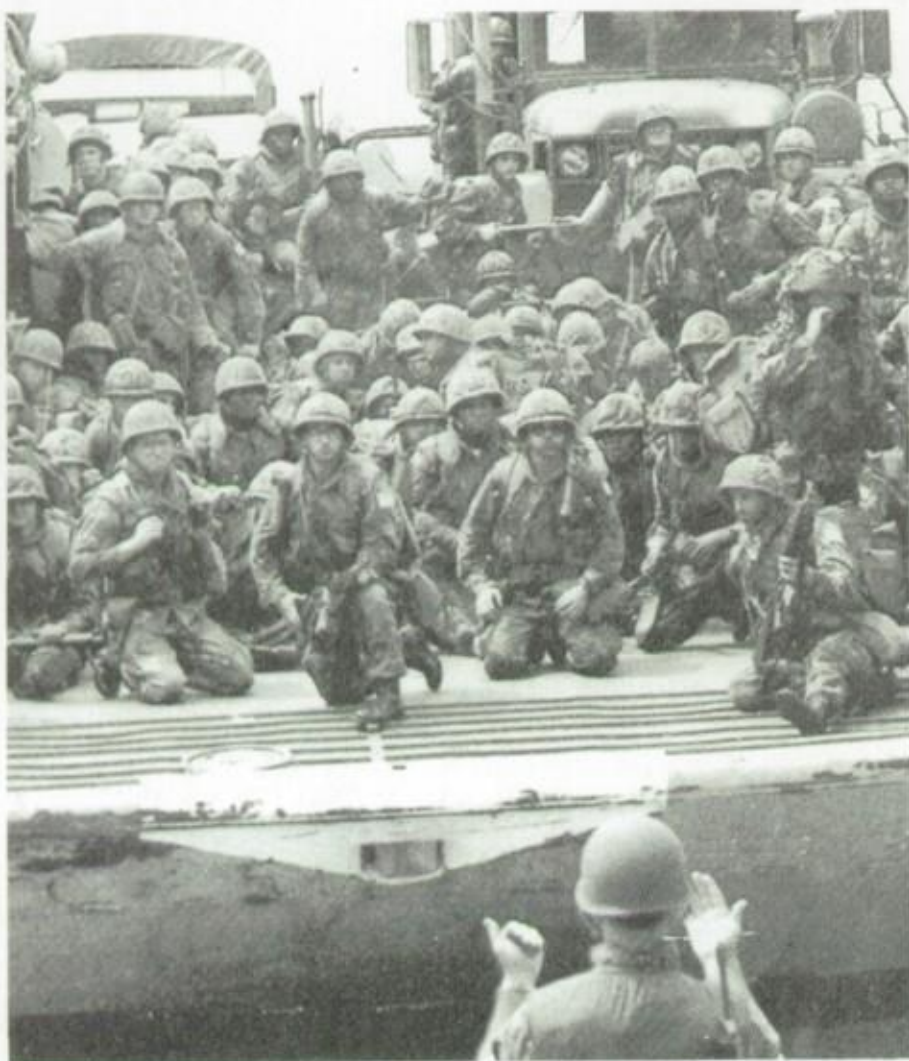

The United States Marines found themselves with plenty of action in the past year. As part of an international peacekeeping force, Marines were sent to Lebanon. However, they did not find much peace. At 6:22 a.m. on Sunday, October 23, a suicide terrorist ran a red Mercedes van loaded with explosives through Marine defenses and exploded his cargo in front of the headquarters building. When the four-story building collapsed, it took the lives of 239 armed personnel and left many others wounded.

Days later, another force of Marines was sent to Grenada, a small island in the Caribbean Sea. President Reagan had received appeals for assistance in restoring order to the island which was coming under communist influence. With American medical students and other Americans living in Grenada, Reagan feared another hostage situation and sent the troops that were requested.

The world was shocked by the Russian attack on a commercial airliner, Korean Airlines Flight 707 on the morning of September 1. Soviets contended that the airliner was illegally in their airspace which caused suspicion with their airforce. Fifty-six Americans were among the 269 passengers and crew that were killed in this "accident."

These were just a few of the distressing events that took place this year. Any combination of these occurrences could make anyone a cynic. But should it?

Soldiers await the moment when they land on the beach north of St. George as part of a second-wave assault on Grenada.

Thousands of protestors marched in Bonn, West Germany to air their grievances about the deployment of U.S.-built nuclear missiles in Western Europe. Similar marches took place throughout Europe after the U.S. announced their plans to place missiles there.

Marines look on as a fellow soldier is pulled from the debris of a building that had been destroyed by an explosion set off by a terrorist in Lebanon.

It certainly was a good year for Xavier Roberts, who is shown here with his multi-million dollar creations, Cabbage Patch dolls.

Vanessa Williams charmed the country by winning the Miss America crown.

Twenty-five year old Scott Hamilton shows his joy at winning a gold medal for his outstanding performance in men's figure skating at Sarajevo.

The Australian yacht, Austrailia II, pulls ahead of the U.S. Liberty in the tie-breaking race for the America's Cup. After 132 years, the Auld Mug was moved from the New York Yacht Club to the Royal Perth Yact Club in Austrailia, after the Aussies won the last race.

. . . there is a Silver Lining

With all of the depressing news that was heard, it was a great change of pace to hear about some of the good news that happened this year.

Possibly the best news that Americans received was the fact that after almost two weeks, Marines were going to be coming home from Grenada. Reagan felt that the crisis was over and since all the Americans had been evacuated, he saw no need to keep the troops there.

The beautiful Vanessa Williams was crowned Miss America this year. It otherwise would not have been unusual except for the fact that she was the first black Miss America in the pageant's 63-year history. She also surprised people by taking stands on controversial issues such as abortion and ERA, topics which her predecessors have avoided.

In sports, it turned out to be a good year all the way around. Locally, the Detroit Lions won the league title for the first time in 20 years. The Detroit Tigers also did well by coming in a close second in the league. The Winter Olympics, held at Sarajevo, Yugoslavia uplifted many people's spirits. The United States received many medals, especially in the skiing events. California-native Bill Johnson captured the gold in men's downhill, a first for the U.S., while teammate Debbie Armstrong won a gold medal in the women's giant slalom. The least surprising gold was won by an American favorite, Scott Hamilton, who excelled in men's figure skating.

There will always be clouds that blanket our lives. However, we should remember that it is the silver lining that keeps us optimistic.

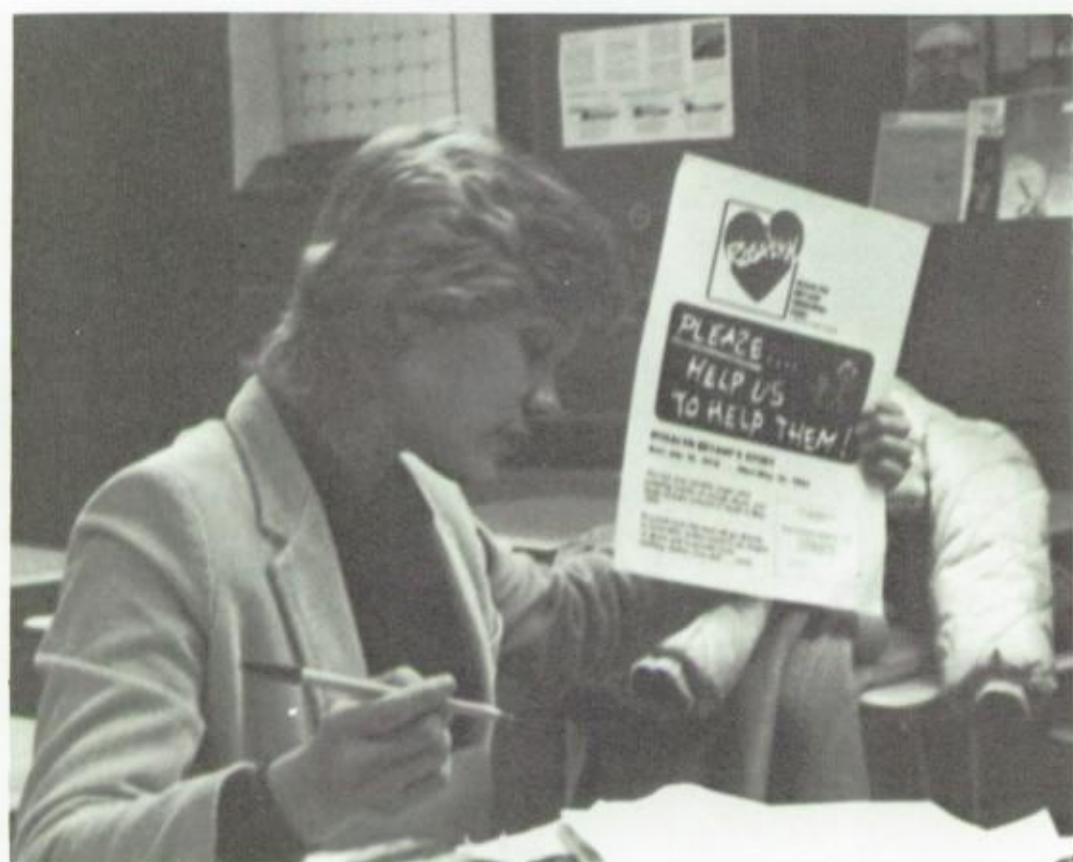

Student Life

Discussing the day's events are Ron Strickler, Lee Ramaklus, and Karen Brockman.

As part of the day's festivities, many seniors brought their cameras to get some memories of the day. Here, some seniors pose for a group shot.

Denise Ziesmer and Korinna Kopka prepare to snap a few photos of fellow students for their scrapbooks.

me dressed up like a fat guy. Really I didn't have to dress up to cause I'm already fat!

Gumby visits Dundee

"I'm Gumby!" stated senior Eric Weber, whose Gumby (of "Saturday Night Live") costume sparked the ordinarily dreary halls of Dundee on Halloween.

Denise Ziesmer certainly looked sweet in her Hershey kiss costume. By stuffing paper between spray painted material, Denise gave the costume volume. Denise's mother helped her in making it.

A real standout that day was Mark Stoner, who dressed as a purple haired pregnant woman. Talk about weird!

Lee Ramaklus brought back the old days in her 1920's mint green and black flapper costume. She borrowed the outfit from Ron Strickler's grandmother, who made it herself. The costume itself had won numerous contests in previous years.

A pickle? A green banana? No, it's Gumby! Eric Weber's costume idea seemed to go over well with the seniors. By dyeing sheets and sewing them together, Eric made the body of the costume. Then by painting his face green and stuffing the top with foam, Eric made the head of the costume. "It was really fun dressing up as Gumby," stated Eric.

These are just a few of the many costumes worn. A surgeon, Raggedy Ann, and the traditional clown were other surprises.

Mu$ic madne$$ Make$ money

When given free time, it is well known that students spend more of their time and money on movies and music.

The big words in the music industry were video, Boy George, and of course, Michael Jackson. Jackson's second solo album, Thriller, broke records all over. It has sold more than 30 million copies, making it the best-selling album in history. Thriller has been at no. 1 on the album charts longer than any other album and the seven singles released off the album proved to be dynamite on the singles chart. This terrific album earned a record breaking 12 Grammy nominations.

This was also the year for the new English Invasion. Twenty years after the Beatles came to the U.S., England sent us another batch of fresh, talented musicians. Groups such as Big Country, Culture Club, Duran Duran, and the Eurythmics caught our attention and earned our praise in many cases.

The use of video was named as a major influence on the increase of record sales. There were few artists who did not use music videos to get their music to a wider audience. The cable channel MTV brought us new talent and forced the radio stations to expand their playlists.

With long-braided hair, makeup, and flashy clothes, Boy George (O'Dowd) of Culture Club has become an unlikely idol to his listeners.

If this isn't the face of 1983, whose is? Michael Jackson, "The Peter Pan of Pop," has stunned the world with his phenomenal album, Thriller.

This group of young men has been the source of much commotion in the U.S. and around the world. Duran Duran has played a major role in the 80's English Invasion.

The star of Flashdance Jennifer Beals' wardrobe proved to be a major influence on fashion.

This gorgeous face proved to be the epitome of evil. Jabba the Hutt, the galactic gangster, debuted in the sixth chapter of the Star Wars saga, The Return of the Jedi.

Fine flicks Field fortunes

From Hollywood, producers sent us a wide variety of movies to get us to the theaters and spend our money. The biggest draw had to be the third episode of George Lucas' space epic, Star Wars. In Return of the Jedi Luke Skywalker uncovered secrets of his life and with the aid of his friends Han Solo, Princess Leia and fuzzy creatures called Ewoks, he saw the end of the wicked Empire.

A suspenseful movie called War Games, starring Matthew Broderick, told the amazing story of a "hacker" who plays a game of thermo-nuclear war with an army computer. The only trouble was that the computer thought it was real.

Another tremendous success was a touching story called Terms of Endearment. Actresses Shirley MacLaine and Debra Winger starred in this wonderful movie about the growing relationship between a mother and daughter.

On the lighter side, one of the funniest movies was Mr. Mom. Newcomer Michael Keaton starred as Jack Butler, a Detroit auto executive who gets temporarily furloughed and finds he must take care of the house while his wife goes back to work. The possibilities were endless and Jack saw them all.

Movies and Music. Probably the main source of entertainment in the lives of high school students. It was a great year to get their fill of favorites.

Barrels, paint, a fire extinguisher, paper, many hours and helping hands were the main ingredients in the making of the winning float. "Raid the Royals" was the theme of the first place float winner. Dan Bolster provides a demonstration for the junior class.

The band float, "Crown the Royals," didn't place, but it drew much attention during the third quarter when it mysteriously was set on fire.

Homecoming 1983: Treasured memories

Homecoming is reflected as one of the most treasured memories in high school. The festivities started out with several activities and contests for Homecoming week sponsored by the varsity cheerleaders.

Monday was Button Day, and during lunch hour a car stuffing contest took place in the parking lot. Crazy hats were worn on Tuesday, and Wednesday was Fifties Day. Also, during lunch hour Julie Ellison hula hooped the longest to win the contest. Sweethearts Day was saved for Thursday. Anyone could give his/her "special" friend a carnation. The student body voted Shane Waterstradt as Homecoming king, and he was crowned at the pep rally. This year's Homecoming queen was Becky Edelbrock. Her escort to the Homecoming dance which followed the game was Chris Levicki.

Becky's court was made up of other senior candidates Lee Remaklus, Kris Horn, and Traci Goethe, and the representatives for the underclassmen, freshman Alexa McCulloch, sophomore, Patty Van Dorn, and junior Tammy Wymer.

Taking time out of her lunch hour to collect money for sweetheart flower orders is senior Liz Rabideau.

Becky Edelbrock was nominated for class representative her freshman and sophomore years. This year she was selected by the student body as 1983 Homecoming queen.

Tootsie Day Raises spirit

Although none of the costumes matched the style of Culture Club's Boy George or the Eurythmics' Annie Lennox, Dundee had its fair share of cross dressers on Tootsie Day.

Tootsie Day was sponsored by the high school cheerleaders as part of the Spirit Week activities.

The amount of participation reflects the growing trend of cross dressing. One of this year's most popular Broadway shows was "La Cage aux Folles," which centers on men dressing as women. And as before mentioned, two of the year's most popular musical groups are led by notorious cross dressers in Culture Club and the Eurythmics.

Showing how not to sit like a lady, although dressed like one, is junior Rob Justice.

Wearing her father's hat and shirt for the day, senior Lana Nabozny shows her spirit.

Examining their CareBear pinata are Kim Weston, Laura Haddix, and Michelle Hoffman.

Yuletide brings activities

Christmas and the winter holidays were once again enjoyed by D.H.S. students this year. Several groups and organizations put together their own festivities to make the season brighter.

The Student Council sponsored the First Annual Snowball Festival. Included in the festivities was a dance and a selection of the Snowball King and Queen. The dance was held February 27 after the Dundee-Blissfield basketball game. The announcement of King and Queen came at halftime of the game. Lee Remaklus was chosen Snowball Queen, and Shane Waterstradt was selected as King. Shane graciously gave the award to Ron Strickler, Lee's boyfriend.

The Spanish Club displayed their Christmas spirit by making pinatas, which are paper mache figures stuffed with Christmas goodies. The pinatas ranged from snowmen to the "in" gift, CareBears.

The band and choir also brightened up the season with their annual concerts to both the public and the student body.

The Future Homemakers of America in Dundee prepared and served Christmas dinner for the senior citizens in Dundee. The dinner was supervised by Mrs. Britton, and Dr. Bonnette was the guest speaker.

Christmas was a "white" Christmas this year as a major snowstorm passed through Dundee before the holidays. Unfortunately this left Dundee, and the rest of the country, with record setting low temperatures.

In Denver, the coldest spot in the country, anxious parents awaited airplanes that were to drop thousands of "Cabbage Patch Kids" out into the sky. Why did they wait so long in such adverse conditions? So they could please their child with one of the pudgy little dolls on Christmas morning.

A Toast to the Future

A warm, moon-lit night describes a perfect night for the 1984 prom. The setting for the prom was the Sauk Valley Sports Camp in the Irish Hills. Eighty-seven couples attended the event and danced until midnight to music provided by disc jockey John Sebastian of Adrian.

Each couple who attended the prom was given a glass to keep as a souvenir.

Powell Studios caused some panic when the photographer showed up an hour late, but he did get there!

Chosen by their classmates at the prom for senior prom king and queen are Lee Remaklus and Ron Strickler.

Filling out an order for pictures is Cindy Watson and her escort for the prom.

Dancing and enjoying the music are several couples.

Junior prom king and queen went to Sue Borton and Eric Edelbrock. The couples received a gold key chain as their gift.

Displaying disapproval of the song being played by the disc jockey is Dawn Miller.

Enjoying their meal and each other's conversation are Mike Liedel, Wendy Karain, and Trina Stillwagon.

Hard work Pays off

Hard work, determination, and enthusiasm always pay off when you're a member of the Dundee High School marching band. Drum majors Tom Hammitte and Darlene Kanitz worked very hard to lead the band.

After marching season, the band got out their concert band horns and performed Christmas and spring concerts.

The band finished the year with performing at commencement exercises.

Flags have New look

The flag corps, led by Lisa Kleindienst and Lee Ann Remaklus, was expanded to sixteen members this year. They also had a new look with new uniforms.

As usual, they performed at all of the home football games and at the Ida game. They also performed with the band at district marching festival.

"We all had a difficult time adjusting to our new roles, but after we learned to work with each other things fell together. We also received many compliments on our new uniforms!" stated Lisa Kleindienst.

As well as marching during football shows, the flag corps also display their talent in the annual Homecoming, Memorial Day, July 4, and Monroe County Fair parades.

Senior co-captain Lisa Kleindienst sets the count for the next routine during a practice.

Senior Dakota Jenkins and choir director Mrs. Olson discuss material for the final exam.

The choir presents traditional and modern selections at their annual Christmas concert.

Being a member of the flag corps isn't all work. Here, the members take a time out to pose for the camera.

Choir busy All year

The high school choir presented four concerts during the school year as well as caroling at the new senior citizen's apartment complex.

They had their annual potluck in October, the Christmas concert, a musical tribute to the past century of music in March, and the spring concert in May when awards were presented.

Clubs grow in size

By selling various items such as cookbooks, candy, suckers, and shirts and holding bake sales, the F.H.A. earned enough money to travel to the state convention held in Kalamazoo in May. A highlight of the year was the installation of officers and a banquet held afterwards.

The French Club had three candy sales which will enable them to go to Boblo this summer. In addition, they will travel to Quebec next year. They prepared a dinner with the Spanish Club.

Besides fund raisers, the Spanish Club traveled to Detroit to see a Spanish play and went out to dinner afterwards.

The F.H.A. cooked a holiday dinner for the senior citizens. Here, Michelle Redburn asks for their orders.

A new activity sponsored by the student council was the Snowball Dance. Selling the tickets to enter the dance is junior Valerie Zieske.

Students Volunteer time

Many students are involved in extra activities and volunteer their services to such groups as the student council, cadet teaching and librarians.

Providing the student body with many money-making projects and festive activities was one of the major responsibilities of the student council. Members of the student council built the queen's float at Homecoming, organized a variety of contests and sold lollipops to make money. A new activity sponsored by the student council was the Snowball Dance. During halftime of the boys' varsity basketball game, King Ron Strickler and Queen Lee Remaklus were crowned.

Each year many students qualify for the opportunity to student teach. The cadets take part in assisting high school and elementary students in any subject or grade they are interested in. A few of their duties are checking papers and keeping records.

Our library is mainly used by classes to do research on projects or recreational reading. In order to keep the library running smoothly, our student librarians are kept very busy. Checking out library materials at the desk, shelving books and helping other students locate materials are just a few of our librarians' duties.

The journalism staff once again was able to get the yearbook and the Viking Press out on time.

The newspaper was printed by the Tecumseh Herald. Many times, the class remained after school to complete it.

The yearbook was the most important job the students did. They had to write the copy and captions, take and select photos, and draw the designs for each page.

The previous yearbook, The Key's Inside, earned a first place award from the Great Lakes Inter-scholastic Press Association.

Vikings second in LCAA

It wasn't until the fourth game of the season that the varsity football team scored a point. The Vikings were still defeated by Hudson in that game. The Vikings then met Blissfield for their first win of the season, a 12-6 LCAA victory.

For their next game the Vikings surprised almost everyone with a victory over a highly favored Mason team, 18-8.

"If you look at the season, we finished second in the league," pointed out Coach Hoffman, "the best since we've been in the LCAA league."

Leading scorer and Most Valuable Player for the season was senior Scott Kreger with 32 points (5 touchdowns and 2 extra points). Quarterback Larry Brossia had 12 points.

Senior Brian Schuler made the state East All-Star team punter and also broke the school record with a 63 yard punt. Albert Ayala also broke a school record with a 43 yard field goal.

Players making All-League First Team were Eric Edelbrock and Chris Levicki on offense and James Thompson and Scott Kreger on defense.

"A great bunch of guys," stated Coach Mark Pullou about his J.V. football team. "They made a lot of progress during the season and played very well against much bigger and experienced teams," he added.

Jesse Lathan and Chuck Brososky led the team offensively. Lathan rushed for 570 yards on 145 carries, while Brososky guided the offense at quarterback.

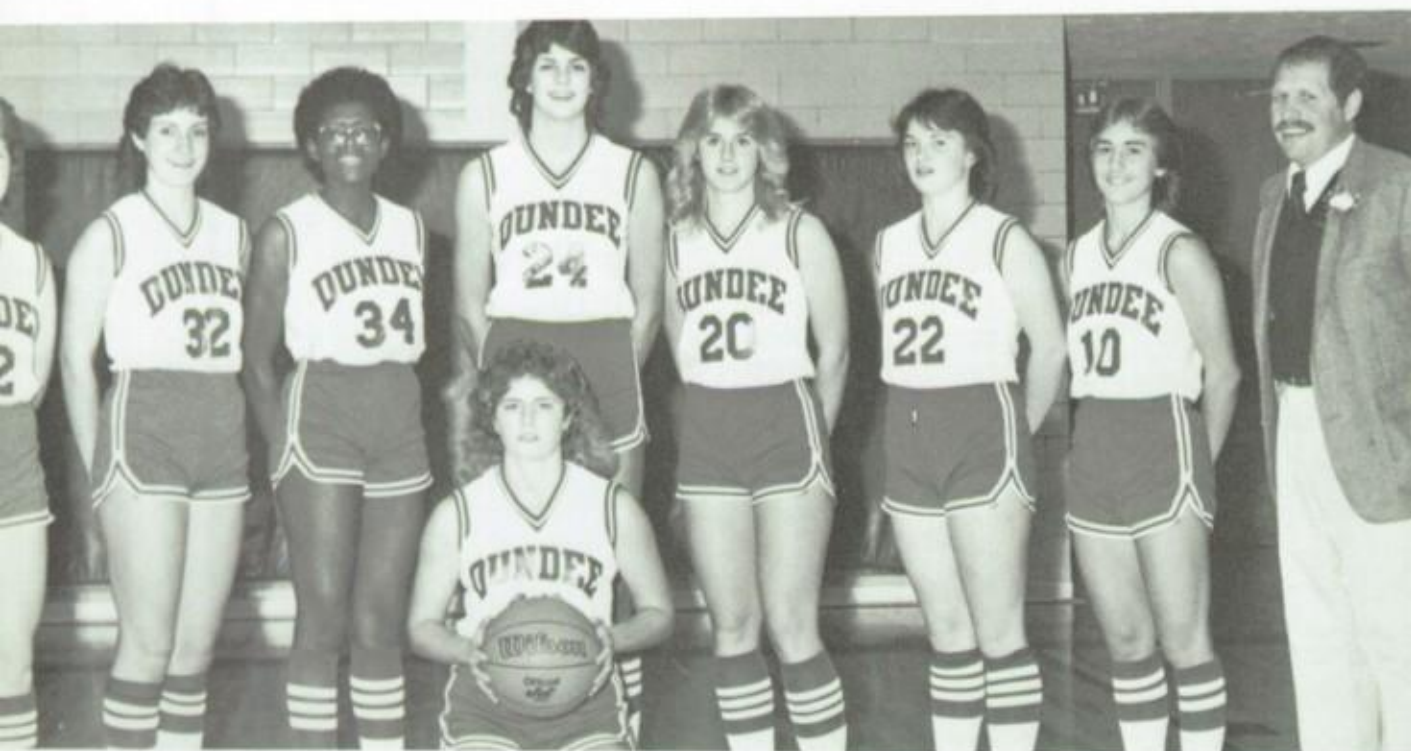

Brososky led the team with 74 tackles and Eric Studnicka added 60.

"Coach Ohrman and I are looking forward to next season because this team has the potential to be a good one," he pointed out. The team's mark wasn't bad this year, though, at 4-3-1.

Eight records broken

One of the most diverse and young varsity girls' basketball teams has made history by breaking eight long standing school records and having a record of 11-10.

Most Improved Player Nikki Weyher led the team in almost all categories. By taking advantage of her 6' 1" height, Weyher dominated not only in offense, but defense. She led the team in scoring with 329 points for a 15.7 point average. In addition, Weyher took the top position in rebounding with 207 rebounds for a 9.9 game rebounding average, and she led with 49 total free throw points.

Captain Peggy Potter, the MVP, was the team's leading thief with 61 steals. Sophomore Cindy Pentercs stood out as the leading free thrower with a 65% game average.

The breaking of eight school records sparked the team's season. Peggy Potter broke the record for most field goal attempts in a season with 335. Weyher broke the records for most points in a season with 329, for field goals made in a season with 135, and for the best field goal percentage with 49%.

In addition to the individual records, four team records were broken for points in a game with 79, game point average with 54%, field goal percentage for a season with 40%, and free throw percentage with 54%.

The girls' best game was a decisive victory over Onsted in the beginning of the season. Ranked second in the state and previously undefeated, the Wildcats were handed their only loss of the season, 55-54.

The Vikings ended the season in second place in the L.C.A.A. conference with a 7-3 league record.

"We could have done better, but we had a young team," stated Heather McCrea of the J.V. girl's basketball team. The team ended the season with a record of 8-12.

Most Valuable Player Julie Clark led the team with 232 rebounds and 130 points. Leading the team in assists was Connie Massingill with 18.

The team's main downfall was inconsistency which resulted in many defeats.

"I think they improved a lot, but it did not show on their record," summarized Coach Sue Gaudet.

Team still young

"This is a very young team. Everyone practiced really hard, but when it came to a game, we couldn't put it together. They all have great potential for next year," stated first year coach Kathy Rehberg of the J.V. volleyball team.

The team ended the season with a disappointing 1-16 record. The Most Valuable Player was Lisa Nickerson, who also led the team in scoring with 96 points and in spiking with 23 good spikes for a 79% average. Most Improved Player was Heather McCrea. Other standouts were Tina Lathan with 22 spikes, and Natalie Patterson led the team with 58 good sets for a 70% average.

Volleyball takes first LCAA crown

With Becky Edelbrock leading the team in points again this year, the varsity volleyball team defeated Addison 15-13, 15-5, to become the LCAA champions.

"With six seniors and three scrappy underclassmen, we were looking that league title right in the eye, but I never expected an 18-4 overall record," stated Coach Bunce. The team was led in scoring percentage by Becky Edelbrock with 94%. Lana Nabozny led the team with 64 kills and Judy Carpenter led the team with 12 aces.

Edelbrock and Nabozny received First Team All-League honors while Carpenter earned Second Team All-League and Missy Brososky received honorable mention. Best all around performance and the Judy Miller Award were presented to Edelbrock for her outstanding performance.

The team had a league record of 9-1. Their only losses were to Addison, Ida, Mason and Monroe. Many of the games were won coming from ten point deficits.

Sophomore Steve Schultz earned his Most Valuable Player Award by working for consistency, averaging a 42.42.

Senior Award winner Jeff Edelbrock averaged a 42.55, second best on the team.

Steve Schultz is MVP

Coach William Abbott's team closed out the season with an 11-13 overall record. Their 7-8 league record earned them fourth place in the standings.

The highlight of the season came at the league meet, October 12, where three records were set or tied. Steve Schultz, who earned Most Valuable Player honors, broke the sophomore mark by shooting an 81 over 18 holes. Brian Heiden tied the junior record with an 83, and the team record of 331 also was set.

Senior Mark Stoner had the low round of the year, a 37. His score was a record on the new home course, Macon Golf Club in Britton. Mark also shot the lowest 18 holes in the regional meet at Whiteford Valley, an 86.

MVP Steve Schultz, who as a sophomore holds or is a part of 11 records, led the team in lowest 9 hole average with a 42.42.

Senior Jeff Edelbrock, who averaged a 42.55, won the Senior Award. He was also medalist twice during the season.

Victory is nothing new to senior tri-captain Janice Rath who is awaiting her time after leaving an opponent in the wake.

Swimmers splash To success

Senior tri-captains Kim Denman, Sheryl Flotte, and Janice Rath led a winning season for the girls' swim team. The team gave it their best to finish their season with a record of 8-6.

"This is one of the greatest groups of overachievers I have ever coached," remarked Coach Williams. "We had very little threat, but we kept on working hard and winning."

Every team has highlights in their season and this year's team is no exception. A major upset to St. Mary was one of this year's highlights. They avenged an earlier 20 point loss. Lincoln, the team's only league loss, had a surprising upset loss against Dundee over dual meet league championship. They also received runner up trophy.

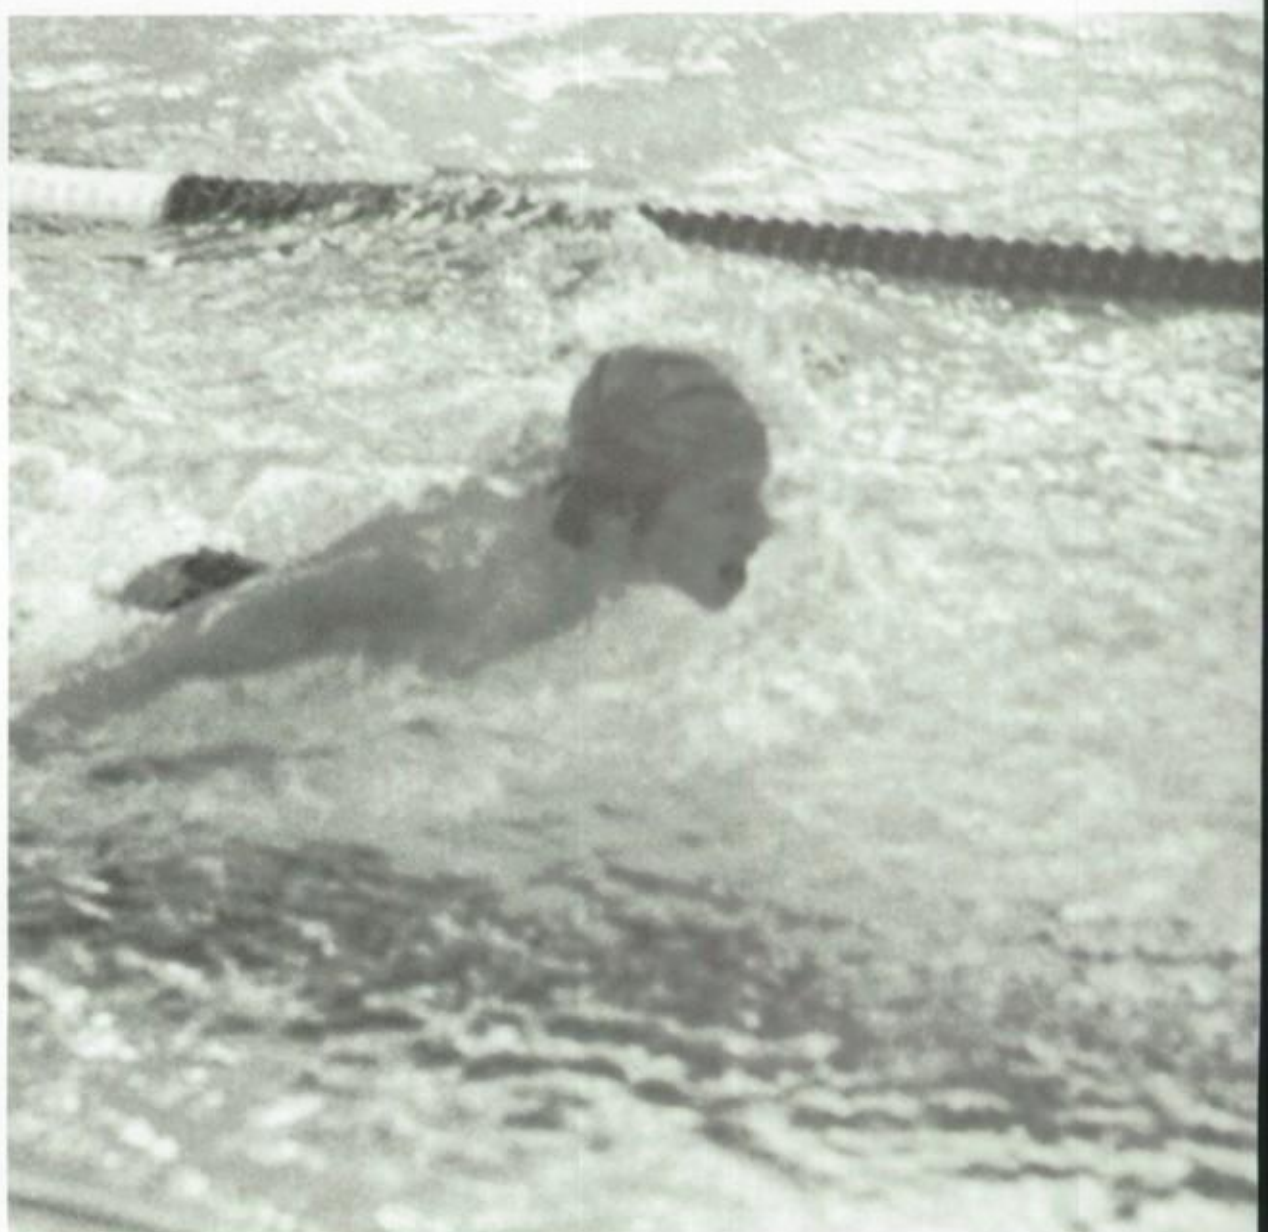

State qualifiers were Janice Rath in the backstroke and Kerry Miller in the fifty-free. The regional diving qualifiers were Becky Borton and Kerry Miller. Miller broke the diving record previously held by Karla Cowen.

"It was an excellent season," declared varsity swimming coach Tom Williams when asked about this year's swimming program.

The swimmers indeed finished fourth in the league relays, second in the Chelsea Invitational, sixth at the state "C" meet, fourth in the league meet and were third in the conference standings.

"We had an 8-4 record," began Coach Williams, "and that includes of course, the win over Mason—their second loss in over five years."

Young round ballers To be successful

When three of the five starters on the J.V. basketball team were freshmen a final 10-10 record deserves a second look.

Freshmen John Jefferds, Chuck Brososky and Bob Roe all started and combined an average 19.8 points a game. Fellow classmates also includes Jesse Lathan, who was a starter on the varsity, and Ken Kruse, who led the freshmen team in scoring and saw some duty on the J.V. squad. Winning is a tradition with this class. They were undefeated in both seventh and eighth grade.

The J.V. team had its leaders, though, in sophomore Steve Schultz and James Carthage. They led the team averaging 13.4 and 13 points, respectively. Carthage also led in rebounds, pulling down 8.2 a game.

Camp improves style

"After doing so well at camp, there was great enthusiasm in the whole team. This enthusiasm lasted the entire year and brought the team closer. I was very pleased with them," commented advisor Mrs. Briggs.

The varsity cheerleaders organized many activities throughout the year. Some included a pot-luck dinner for the varsity football players, a Valentine's Day party for the basketball players, Punk Day, 50's Day, Sweats Day, Hat Day, Tootsie Day. Also, they made scrapbooks for senior football and basketball players.

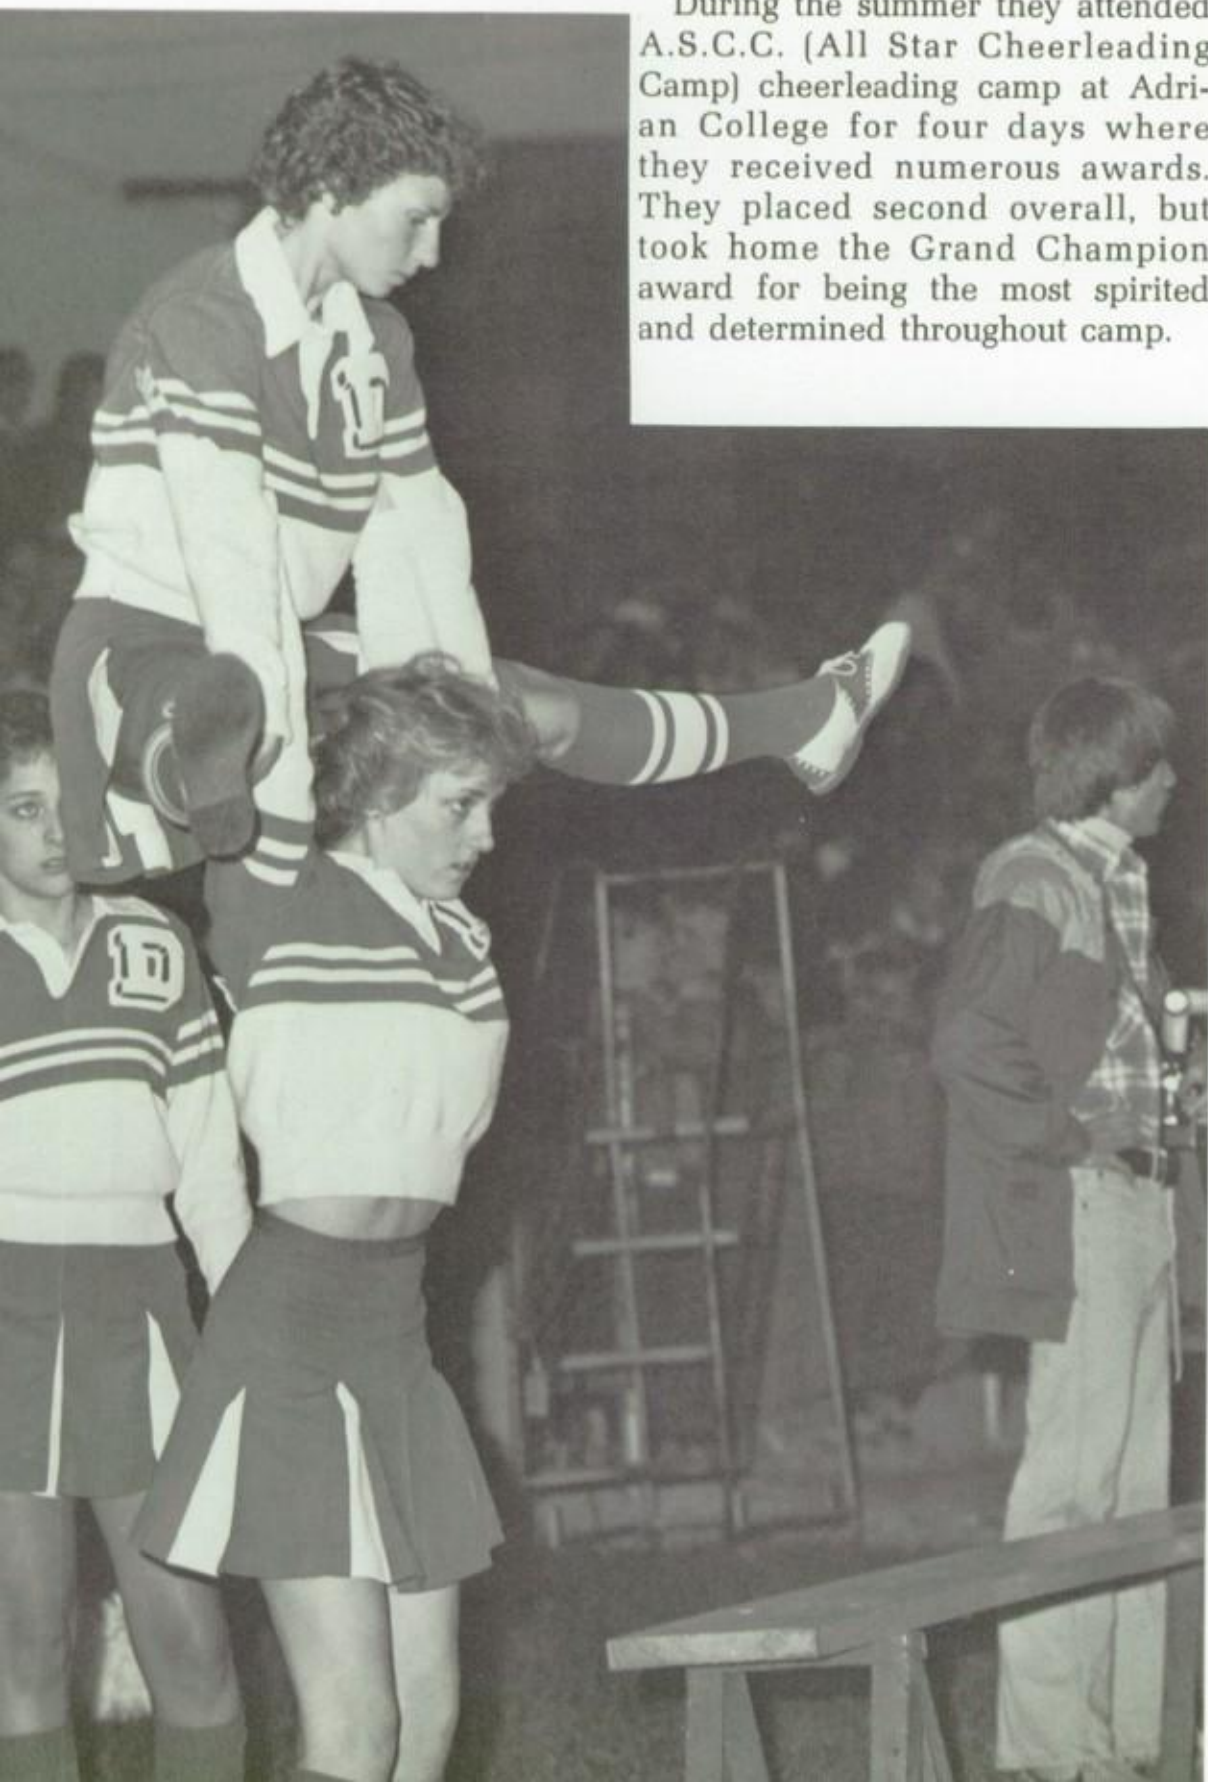

During the summer they attended A.S.C.C. (All Star Cheerleading Camp) cheerleading camp at Adrian College for four days where they received numerous awards. They placed second overall, but took home the Grand Champion award for being the most spirited and determined throughout camp.

"I feel camp helped us work together and brought us closer," stated Wendy Karain, captain of the varsity cheerleaders.

A highlight of the season was a dance routine to "Beat It," which they learned at camp and took two days and three instructors to perfect.

The J.V. cheerleaders helped organize many of the activities along with the varsity cheerleaders. They were struck with a shortage of cheerleaders midway through the season, so a second tryout was held. In the second tryout, Lori Hochradel and De Stoner made the team.

Becky Bilotta, advisor of the J.V. squad remarked, "The girls identified their commitment with an enthusiastic and energetic attitude in excellence of performance. This wholesome attitude was enjoyed throughout the 1983-84 school year."

Seniors pace Track team

"I thought it was a successful season," stated boys track coach Jim Beck. "It was a better season than last year even though it was a lot of the kids' first year of varsity track. We accomplished a lot of our goals that we set at the beginning of the year."

The team finished with a 4-4 record as the LCAA runner-ups. One of the goals accomplished was the breaking of the two-mile record by Senior Tom Mack. Mack ran the distance in 10:25, breaking the previous record of 10:25.5.

"Tom is one of the hardest workers I have ever coached," claimed Beck. "It's kind of gratifying to see Tom break the record."

The team did send two relay teams to the state meet. The 440 and 880 relay teams of Rob Justice, Scott Kreger, Doug Krueger, and Jack Melton qualified but did not place at the meet in Clare. Also qualifying for the state meet was freshman high jumper Chuck Brososky. Brososky cleared 6' 3" but did not place.

"We are losing a great bunch of seniors to graduation, but we still have a good group to work with for next year," Beck added.

Freshman Lathan Places in State

The girls' track team wasn't expected to do very well this season due to the lack of experience. Tri-captains Cathy Curnell, Katrina Stillwagon and Karen Werner were the only seniors to lead the team.

"Our team was young and consisted mainly of inexperienced freshmen," commented Coach Sue Gaudet. "The girls worked hard and showed much improvement, though, and finished their season with a 4-4 record."

Freshman Tina Lathan, who was voted Most Valuable, led the team with 110 individual points for the season. She also qualified to participate in the state meet held in Clare. Lathan broke her own record with a 16'6" long jump to take fifth place. Dyan Jenkins also went to state, but was unable to run due to hip problems.

Other bright spots of the season were the three records set, one by Patty VanDorn in the shot put and another by Ann Baranowski in the 110 hurdles with a time of :18.0. Emily Curnell, Lynda Watson, Beth Johnson and Natalie Patterson set the two mile relay mark with a time of 11:08.

"We won 10 games without any practice or playing fields. And when you win 10 games on the road, you've had a good season," stated Coach Gordon Burkart after the team finished 10-11.

MVP Larry Brossia hit .400 with 30 hits, 24 runs scored, 20 RBI's and 5 homers, the most since 1978.

Dan Bolster lead in batting with .464. Todd Murray was the leading pitcher with 4 wins and 19 stolen bases. Relief pitcher Marvin Campbell won 3 and suffered 1 loss. The Most Improved Player was Chris Levicki.

Brian Hughes and Brossia were selected to the All-LCAA First Team. Chris Lee and Murray received honorable mention. Brossia and Hughes were selected to All-Region First Team and Murray received honorable mention.

J.V. wins eight of last nine

The junior varsity baseball squad posted a record of 11-5 even though they played every game on the road.

Steve Schultz led the team in pitching with a 3-2 record, 28 innings pitched and 33 strikeouts. Randy Vigliotti had the lowest earned run average with .46. He also posted a 3-0 pitching record.

Rod Polter led the team in at bats with 54 and in runs with 18. Steve Schultz also led the team in on base percentage with .623, in hits with 24, highest batting average (.546) and in runs batted in with 17.

"Once the team was able to get some warm and dry weather, they played very well," stated Coach Williams. The team won eight of their last nine games.

Varsity has Disappointing Season

After winning an LCAA Championship the year before, the Vikings could do no better than a 10-13 overall mark and a fourth place league finish.

The team was led in hitting by senior Lana Nabozny. She hit .394 and was followed by sophomore Cindy Pentercs, who hit .373.

When All-League selections came out, Dundee placed three on the First Team. Lana Nabozny and Cindy Pentercs made it on the infield, while senior Becky Edelbrock was a First Team pick in the outfield. Senior Korinna Kopka received honorable mention.

Pentercs also received recognition in Monroe County. The sophomore standout was named to the All-Region First Team.

A couple of good sports,

Becky Edelbrock received the Outstanding Female Athlete award during senior awards night. Her athletics didn't begin in high school. She ran track in the seventh and eighth grade and played eighth grade basketball. In 1981 she played J.V. basketball, volleyball, and ran varsity track. In 1982 J.V. basketball, varsity volleyball, and softball were a part of her activities. Since then she played three varsity sports a year, basketball, volleyball, and softball. Becky was co-captain for the outfield this year in softball. She was awarded to All-LCAA First Team for softball her junior and senior years. She was selected to honorable mention for All-Region this year also.

Her favorite sport is volleyball. Ms. Luan Bunce was her favorite coach. "She was there to give me help when I needed it," commented Becky. "She pushed me when she thought I could do better." She was a member of the National Honor Society. For recreation she plays summer softball.

Basketball, even in junior high, has always been a part of Becky's activities.

Larry Brossia and Becky Edelbrock!

Larry Brossia received three sports honors at senior awards night, the Holland Trophy, Ham Munson Trophy and Brian French Award.

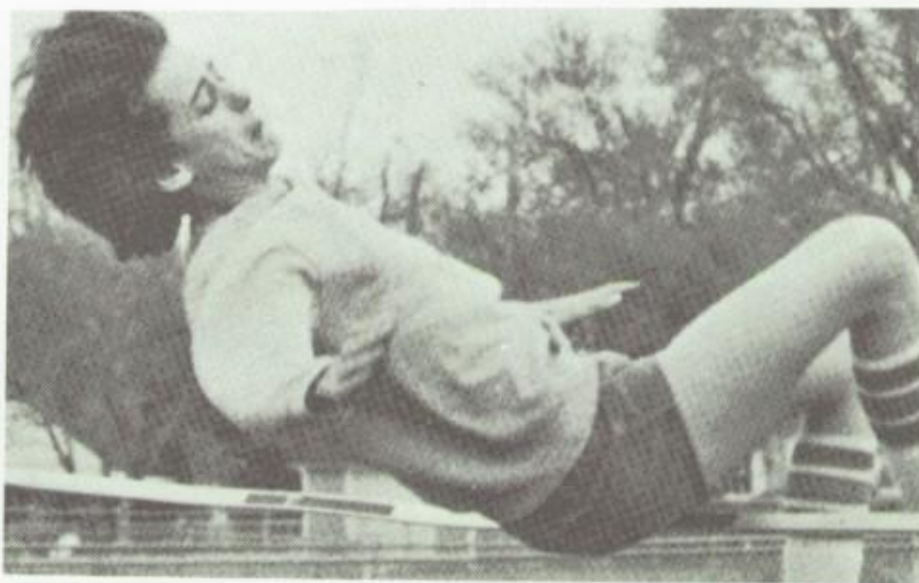

He started being a three sporter in 1979 and carried them through twelfth grade. In junior high he played football and basketball and ran track. In 1981 he played ninth grade football, J.V. basketball, and baseball. In 1982 he played varsity baseball and led that team in batting .393. Varsity football, basketball, and baseball were all a part of 1983 and '84. He was captain of the basketball and baseball teams this year. He was awarded to All-Region honorable mention for baseball in 1982, First Team All-LCAA for baseball and second team in basketball for '83, First Team All-LCAA for baseball and All-Region First Team this year.

His favorite sport is basketball. Mr. Britton was his favorite coach. "He helped me in every way, bettered me as a player and a person. He helped me realize what my personal values should be," said Larry.

For recreation in the summer he plays for the American Legion and Connie Mack baseball.

Larry missed the junior high record by a $\frac{1}{2}$ an inch in eighth grade but made up for it with all the honors he received in high school.

Coach Ernie Hoffman presents Larry with the Ham Munson Trophy.

Freshmen Embarrassed By Routines?

During the year the freshmen physical education classes participate in many different activities. One of these is gymnastics.

Most freshmen seem to dread this part of the year because they are required to make up a routine on one of the following: balance beam, uneven and even parallel bars, mats, vaulting horse, or rings. The reason most freshmen don't seem to enjoy this is because everyone watches the routine they have made up, and it puts a lot of pressure on them to perform their best.

Since we do not have any varsity gymnastics, this is the chance for the ninth graders to get exposed to it.

With the summer Olympics coming up, this also helped the freshmen to be able to understand this sport.

Gymnastics is an activity that requires a lot of physical exertion as well as a lot of creativity. It also helps prepare the freshmen for performing in front of people.

Miss Gaudet explains the procedure on the balance beam to her ninth grade physical education class.

Secretary Andrea Houpt discusses class activities with Melissa Horn and Lance Nabozny.

Sophomores focus on fund raisers

The sophomore class, under the leadership of Patty VanDorn, was very active throughout the year.

In the summer they organized a car wash as one of their many fund raisers. They also painted clown faces at the P.T.O. Family Fun Night and sold stationery. During football and basketball seasons the sophomores sold concessions. In the spring they sponsored a dance, "Let the Music Play".

Tim Roberts adjusts his microscope in order to view his blood sample more clearly.

Yuk! He expects me to do this? I'm sure!

If you pass by the Biology I class and notice the look of panic as sophomores enter the room, it can mean only one thing. Blood testing time! This is the most dreaded time of the year, yet the most interesting.

During this lab, students are able to take blood samples, type their blood, and also view their blood under a microscope. The worst part of this lab for students is poking their fingers and actually taking the blood sample. Although many find this unbearable, all admit that it is very interesting to do a lab which involves their own bodies.

During this time of the year, the Biology I class also focuses on high blood pressure and other blood related illnesses.

Transferring blood from his finger to the slide is Clint Maxfield.

Working busily to assure the proper results is Ron Miller.

Rows of BMX bikes are always a familiar sight when spring arrives.

BMX Becomes popular

If taking a leisurely stroll during lunch, you can't miss the group of sophomores gathered on the corner doing all kinds of stunts on their BMX bicycles.

Bicycle motocross, a pedal power version of motorcycle motocross, has become a popular past time of sophomores. "It's a lot of fun, especially because it's just for young people," stated sophomore Ron Tennyson, a BMX fanatic. BMX participants must be between the ages of five and nineteen for competitive racing.

Beginning merely as a fun thing to do, BMX has quickly grown into an organized sport that attracts many young participants. There are also new clubs and tracks forming rapidly across the nation. The most popular track in our area is Milan Cycle City at the Milan Dragway.

In June they had a car wash next to Foodtown. During the school year, the class also took orders and sold flower bulbs and cookies. (Prom pictures on page 18 and 19.)

The junior class officers are Mrs. Sharon Niz, advisor; Valerie Zieske, vice-president; Kris Cowen, secretary; Julie Kanitz, treasurer; and Eric Edelbrock, president.

Juniors attend career conferences

Juniors attended two annual career conferences during the school year.

The first one, Strategies, was held March 15, at Cobo Hall. Twenty-five girls attended career presentations on different career fields. The day was highlighted by a lecture and press conference by Cathy Guisewite, the writer of the syndicated comic strip "Cathy".

The other was the annual Career Day held April 5 at St. Mary Academy. The conference was presented by the Monroe County high school counselors, and guest speakers were area businessmen and women.

Students earn cash

Turning sixteen for many students means getting their driver's license and trying to get a job.

Those who are successful use their earnings to pay for gas, clothes, entertainment, and what other expenses they may have. Some save for the ultimate dreams, their own car and a college education.

Students try To Drive Various Wrecks

Buying a first car is hard, so many students settle for anything that runs. Some car owners receive hand-me-downs from their parents. Others buy something that is good enough to get them to school and work. No matter what the situation is, most have dreams of owning their own luxury car.

Take Stock In Business Law

One of the most recommended business education classes that seniors may take is Business Law and Consumer Education. Business Law is offered for one semester and is paired with Consumer Education. This course places emphasis on three basic areas, contracts, employment and property. Consumer Education is a course to help the student become an alert and responsible consumer. It covers the following areas: advertising, consumer protection, banking, spending, taxes and insurance.

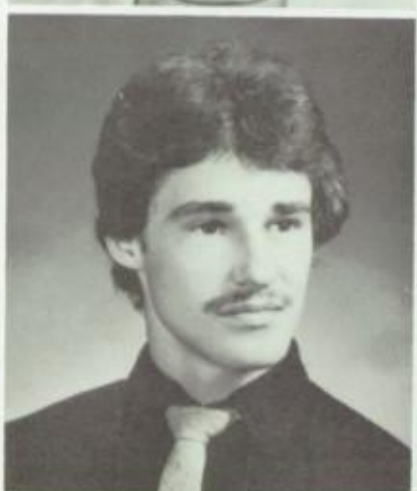

Lana Nabozny, being punished for forgetting her business law workbook, must wear the dreaded Dunce Cap.

Tina Heringhausen receives the French key from Mrs. Kathie Bolt.

Seniors honored

On senior awards night the class of 1984 was gathered together to receive due recognition for their accomplishments.

Darlene Kanitz was awarded MSU scholarships for academic excellence and band. Along with being the candidate for both the Joseph R. Denniston Scholarship and the Monroe Sertoma Club-Richard Held Memorial Scholarship, she was also one of the two students selected for the Outstanding Student of the Student of the Month Club instituted this year.

Ginger Davis was awarded a Certificate of Recognition for the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship. She also received two MCCC scholarships, Leon Wells Scholarship and the journalism key.

Mark Stoner, along with being a candidate for both the Winston Scheer Sr. Scholarship and the William Kaper Scholarship, received a MCCC Board of Trustees Scholarship.

Jon Beland received a Letter of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for his outstanding performance on the 1982 PSAT/NMSQT. He also received a Leon Wells Scholarship, a Certificate of Recognition for the State of Michigan for his participation in the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship, and a Presidential Award for Academic Fitness.

133 graduate

A bright, breezy day was the scene for the graduation of the 1984 senior class. The day opened with the procession, as 133 seniors marched their way up to the stage to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance." Reverend Paul Horn, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church and father of the graduate Kris Horn, gave the invocation.

Salutatorian Scott Kreger and valedictorian Robert Vogt gave speeches to classmates. The selection "Exaltation" was played by the band under the direction of Mrs. Lona Vogie.

At this time, each of the seniors marched up to the stage and was presented his diploma along with a flower given by the National Honor Society. Class president Peggy Potter led the graduates in the class pledge.

Finally, the graduates filed out in the recessional, "Royal Processional."

Relatives and friends become photographers for a day as the graduates file out in the recessional.

Doni Baisden gives Sue Lindzy a hand with her mortarboard. Due to the wind during the day, the caps had to be secured with several bobby pins.

Reverend Paul Horn gives his baccalaureate address to the seniors.

Chris Harris and Phil Sontag casually walk to the graduation ceremony.

School board member Mr. Don Schultz hands Brenda Carsner her diploma.

Closing

A bulldozer goes about clearing away some of the debris left by the fire that destroyed the Coffee Cup.

Superintendent Bonnette goes up for a lay-up during the basketball game with the Arkansas Gems.

Ventriloquist Mike Shirley entertains the high school student body by throwing his voice to the frog he has on his knee.

While in the band room office, sophomore Chris Salenbien writes a little note to Mrs. Vogie.

The long awaited sequel to Raiders of the Lost Ark came in a big way. Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom opened to great reviews despite some criticisms of the film's somewhat graphic violence.

She's So Unusual!! The title to Cyndi Lauper's debut album says it all.

Here with sisters Janet and LaToya, singer Michael Jackson accepts one of the eight Grammys he won this year.

Actress Daryl Hannah made waves with her portrayal of a lovesick mermaid in the comedy movie Splash.

Parodist "Weird Al" Yankovic may be a rock 'n' roll accordion player, but that didn't matter when his single "Eat It," a send-up of Michael Jackson's "Beat It," took off on the charts.

Grammys and Oscars Award performers

With the coming of spring come new movies, new albums and, of course, award shows to congratulate the achievements made in the previous year.

Of the two major award programs, the Grammys were the first to award its members for their accomplishments in 1983. The big winner was Michael Jackson who walked away with a record-breaking eight Grammy awards, including Best Album for Thriller, Best Male Performance for "Beat It," and Record of the Year for "Beat It." The Police also won awards including Best Performance by a Duo or Group and Song of the Year for "Every Breath You Take." Culture Club was voted the Best New Group, and Duran Duran swept the video awards, which have only been recognized since 1980.

In April, the Oscars made a big winner out of Terms of Endearment. It came away with Best Picture, Best Actress for Shirley MacLaine, and Best Supporting Actor for Jack Nicholson, along with awards for the film's director, producer and writer James Brooks. Robert Duvall won the Best Actor for his work in Tender Mercies and Linda Hunt won Best Supporting Actress for her portrayal of an Indonesian man in the movie The Year of Living Dangerously.

Actresses Debra Winger and Shirley MacLaine starred in the critically acclaimed movie Terms of Endearment which won many Oscars.

After the large wind storm that hit the area, the Dundee Mill Dam caught many of the trees that had been blown over on the banks.

The following is an open letter to the faculty and student body from alumnus Ron Oberly. Ron suffered severe burns in mid-May when his car accidentally ignited.

To all teachers and underclassmen with whom I have shared most of my years of school:

I would like to thank you for the sincerity, care and concern also the cards everyone sent me. Hope they have the care and concern for other people all thru their lives. I know that the next future graduates will be very special people.

Thanks,
Ron Oberly

The Silver Lining gives us encouragement

As another school year comes to an end, we look back at the things that upset and pleased us. We were all touched by the good and bad of the year, worldwide and locally.

As dark clouds blanketed persons all over the world, we in Dundee were not left out. This spring we had one of the biggest wind storms to hit our area in years. Property was destroyed by wind and lightning that was brought by the storm.

Last fall, the local restaurant, the Coffee Cup, was closed because of fire damage. This spring the building suffered another fire, this one more destructive. Not only did it destroy the building that contained the Coffee Cup, but also the building next to it.

However, like other places, we also had some good times. This year a female basketball team traveled to Dundee and gave the community the chance to see the Dundee High School male faculty in action on the court. Even though we lost, a good time was had by all.

At another show put on in the school gymnasium, ventriloquist Mike Shirley entertained us with his program. Mr. Shirley threw his voice into dummies, under the gymnasium floor, into the stands and into paper cups.

Years are filled with both good and bad. The thing that is important is the fact that it is the good things that make life a little bit easier to live with. When problems arise, always look for The Silver Lining.

Workers go about digging through the debris left by the fire that destroyed the Coffee Cup building.

Attempting a jump shot, Mr. Scott Pethtel comes up against a member of the Arkansas Gems.

the money! I don't know what to say that everyone hasn't already said. You really are a great person, which is kinda weird because you are so spoiled. (Just kidding.) You're someone who's gone through what I have, but twice as much! What do I mean? I mean our dx is Jim + his cousin who ever. HA-HA. I'm so glad you're happy, you deserve that and so much more. Keep busy - I know you will. You'd go even crazier if you had nothing to do. You've made everything in this school better. I think

I know last year's wreathette year was a little strange, But I still think we had a blast, like when we made Krista cry. Ha-Ha. I know, it wasn't funny. We go back a long time and even tho we have never been best friends I'm glad I can really consider you a good friend. Remember all the silly fun times we had in Junior High, like sledding down the hill on New Years - oh! that was me & Connie, you were smart + i just watched. Any-way! You are THE most talented person I know. You get what you want - I know you will. You made a beautiful representative of this year and you've got my vote for queen. I could write on and on about all your great qualities but I don't want to swell up your head!

Gina,

Rocks

To a very crazy person that I've known for a long time. You've got the most distinct laugh in the history of Dundee HIGH!! Everyone knows that the Juniors Party best, and I'll do my best to keep it that way as long as you do. Have fun in you're last two years, I will.

seems like you can always get into a lot of that. I hope you get to have a wild time in the next two years. Dave left of our high school year. Just think TWO MORE YEARS. I'm sure you can't wait for that, you'll probably be wild once out of reach from your parents. Stay sweet and the way you are Good luck in all you do and I hope to see you on that track this spring. See ya! Natalie well girl, we've been through a lot. Remember all the dumb, stupid, funny and sad things that we did in 4th grade. we had a lot of fun in those days, and we've had a lot of fun since. you're a very sweet person and a good friend, remember me always, and remember: Dreams are what the future is made of. so dream Big!

Love

are a great friend and one crazy person! I will never forget the crazy times we had last year in Out and all the times Mrs. Bond yelled at you for laughing so loud! am. glad you and Keren got your shot together any you make a very interesting couple! & hope you have many late night baby-sitting jobs to keep your weekends sweet! I don't worry, after a graduate you're not leaving Dundee for atleast 4 years so you'll still have me around. Good luck with. Always + Take Care! Love, Natalie

Regina Tara Tuesday
You're the Very Best friend I've ever had. We sure have had our share of misunderstandings. But we've always come out of them remaining friends.

Don't you dare, ever forget all of the great times we've had together. We've done so many things, it's hard to keep track of them all.

No matter what happens or where we go after our last 2 years here,
I know you: I will keep in touch, we have to! We're Sisters !!!!!

You're the only person in this entire school that knows things about so many people, but can be trusted not to blab. (like others.)

I can tell you ANYTHING, and I know that know one else will find out.
You've ALWAYS been there when I've need someone to talk to and cry to,
and lay all my problems on.

We can never let anything break our friendship up. 6 years as BEST FRIENDS is a LONG TIME !!!

R.M.A
(I know you will!!)

Love Ya
Always,
Shel

Regina,

You have got to be one of the cutest and sweetest person on this earth. and usually when someone is as cute as you, they are real snobs. But you are a whole different story!

I am really happy to say that we havent really had any bad times! Thank God! But we sure have had some crazy times.

Remember that summer my parents went to Atlantic City? when you spent the night and me and you went to Ann Harriels party. how messed up we were? You drove Jim Sunchions truck, we were supposed to go home but where did we go? :). I think we finally made it in at 4:00 or 4:30! :). That was fun!

Lura, you have always been there, and I know you always will be! You are a great friend and I love ya! I wish you nothing but the best cuz you deserve nothing but the best! You had better hang in there with Kevin :). ^{when I moved out for a weekend}

P.S.

Don't forget me when I go to

CALIFORNIA

Love ya.

Lura :)

Don't worry
we'll be in the same STATE! yeah!!!
